About Our Agency

The Chinese-American Planning Council, Inc. (CPC) was founded in 1965 and has become one of the largest providers of social services for Asian Americans in the United States.

Asian Child Care Resource & Referral (ACCR) is one of the programs offered by CPC's Community Services. Our staff is multi-lingual in English, Chinese, and Spanish. We provide parents with free information on quality and affordable child care and assist them in navigating New York City's complex child care delivery system. In addition, ACCR offers Family Day Care orientations, trainings, technical assistance, and grants to potential and existing child care programs/providers, in order to increase the supply and improve the quality of child care services in New York City.

30-Hour Cohort Courses

These sessions are designed to help fulfill the 30-hour training requirement for initial licensing and renewal. All topics are taught by NYS verified trainers and NYS certified early childhood educators.

PITC: Responsive Care Giving and Interaction in Child Care Program

This training provides an overview of the basic concepts of early social-emotional growth and socialization and their applications to the group care context. It addresses the importance of responsive caregiving, the individualization of care through understanding of infant temperament, the critical role of family and culture in early identity development, and stages of emotional development. From the Program for Infant and Toddler Care

This training covers OCFS topics areas:

- Principles of childhood development, focusing on the developmental stages of the age groups for which the program provides care
- Child day care program development

Thematic Unit and Lesson Planning; Enhancing Learning Through Arts

Children learn best when they are interested in what they are learning. A Thematic Unit is cohesion of lessons and scaffolding methods in which various areas of curriculum are connected together and integrated within a theme. It organizes learning by creating connections, which is how our little ones learn best. Providers will learn the strategies for designing and implementing interesting thematic units to keep children engaged, and increase their interest and developmental growth. Providers will learn to develop an integrated unit plan for teaching a thematic unit that includes hands-on art activities.

This training meets the following OCFS content area(s):

- Principles of childhood development, focusing on the developmental stages of the age groups for which the program provides care
- Child day care program development

Child Abuse & Maltreatment; Shaken Baby Syndrome; and SIDS

This training focuses on definitions of abuse and maltreatment and how to identify physical and behavioral indicators associated with abuse and maltreatment. Participants practice evaluating case scenarios to determine reasonable cause to suspect if abuse or maltreatment has or is occurring and learn how to complete reporting requirements to fulfill mandatory requirements.

- Child abuse and maltreatment identification and prevention

Gross Motor Development and Nutritious Menu Planning; Culture Matters: Supporting Children's Social & Cultural Development

Regular gross motor activity is important for everyone, especially for young children. Recent research tells us that today's children are actually not getting enough physical activity, which can lead to obesity and diabetes. Child care providers can be positive role models as they work with children in their care and can create healthy menus for their programs. The routines and habits that are started early in life will be easier to continue as the children grow. Whereas, inactivity early in life will continue into adulthood, causing a serious risk of heart disease and high blood pressure.

What is culture? How particular groups of people live is called culture. Broadly said, culture is the items, customs, and values we use to express ourselves and engage in the world around us. We all have a culture. Children experience and learn about their culture and the world around them from the earliest beginnings of a child's life.

This training meets the following OCFS content area(s):

- Principles of childhood development, focusing on the developmental stages of the age groups for which the program provides care
- Child day care program development
- Nutrition and Health Needs of Infants and Children

Business Leadership, Insurance & Legal Issues

In this training session, providers will learn to keep business related records, identify business deductions, calculate Time-Space Percentage, claim proper car and food expenses, and the usage of day care regulatory forms. Providers will also learn to create a providers handbook to communicate with parents.

This training meets the following OCFS content area(s):

- Business Record Maintenance and Management
- Statutes and Regulations Pertaining to Child Day Care

Target Participants: Licensed Family Child Care Providers, Assistants & Legally-exempted Child Care Providers.
